

FINANCIAL ECONOMICS (HBSc)

Department of Economics

Financial Economics is a limited-entry program intended for students planning careers in finance or analysis, and is an excellent program for students considering graduate studies in Economics or Financial Economics. Economics is a social science that encompasses a particular range of human behaviour and has a strong influence on the structure, well-being, and development of a society. It deals with any issue arising out of the conflict between the demand for goods and services and a limited supply of resources.

Undergraduate training in Economics is intended to familiarize students with the discipline of economic thinking and to equip them for intelligent appraisal of contemporary economic problems. It is also intended to make students aware of the nature of economic science and of the directions in which economic theory is moving.

MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR TIME AT UTM!

We want to help you maximize your university experience, so we've pulled together information and interesting suggestions to get you started, although there are many more! As you review the chart on the inside pages, note that many of the suggestions need not be restricted to the year they are mentioned. In fact, activities such as joining an academic society, engaging with faculty and seeking opportunities to gain experience should occur in each year of your study at UTM. Read through the chart and create your own plan using My Program Plan found at www.utm.utoronto.ca/program-plans

FUTURE STUDENTS

Admission to UTM

All program areas require an Ontario Secondary School Diploma, or equivalent, with six Grade 12 U/M courses, or equivalent, including English. The admission average is calculated with English plus the next best five courses. The Grade 12 prerequisite for this program is Advanced Functions. The approximate average required for admission is mid- to high-70s. More information is available at utm.utoronto.ca/viewbook.

NOTE: During the application process, applicants will select the Social Sciences admissions category, but will not officially be admitted to a formal program of study (Specialist, Major, and/or Minor) until after first year.

Sneak Peek

Get introduced to economics! In ECO101H5 and ECO102H5 you will learn about national income and its determination; monetary and fiscal techniques; and the theory of the firm. What is microeconomic theory? Find out in ECO206Y5!

Are you looking for a deeper analysis of economic models and their application? Then consider enrolling in the Certificate in Advanced Economics.

To achieve the Certificate, you will enrol in 4 courses covering the three main fields of economics: microeconomics, macroeconomics, and econometrics, that help prepare you for graduate and professional studies. The 4 courses are ECO325H5, ECO326H5, ECO375H5, and ECO475H5.
