COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

WHY IT'S A GOOD IDEA TO GET INVOLVED

The Centre for Student Engagement (CSE) provides opportunities to allow students to develop themselves, expand their network by engaging in interdisciplinary tasks, and feel a sense of pride and connection to the UTM community while representing the institution in the greater GTA-West community.

By volunteering with CSE, you can enhance your connectedness with your community and contribute to a personal sense of satisfaction and happiness.

Explore this booklet to learn more about the volunteer experiences waiting for you!

CO-CURRICULAR RECORD

The Co-Curricular Record (CCR) at the University of Toronto is designed to help students find opportunities beyond and in partnership with the classroom and have their skills and experiences captured on an official university document.

The Co-Curricular Record (CCR) can help you:

- Learn how to get involved and follow your progress
- Connect your involvement with career prospects
- Build your resume
- Build your network
- Be more successful in your studies
- Get recognized

VOLUNTEER TRAINING MODULES

Training modules are the first step for all volunteer opportunities within the CSE. At any time you can register and complete these modules to be ready to volunteer! Once our modules are completed, you will be able to:

- Express why are interested in volunteering
- Identify professionalism to utilize when volunteering
- Understand the theory behind community-engaged learning
- Explore volunteer rights and responsibilities
- Discover key concepts from the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA)
